Lyndon returns to Catholic High to address the Investors Club

Recently, I had the privilege of returning to my alma mater, Catholic High School, to engage with the Investors Club.

We delved into the distinctions between trading and investing, emphasizing the importance of setting clear goals to align clients' assets with their core values.

I shared insights into my daily life as an advisor, highlighting interactions with clients and industry professionals.

Our discussion covered various asset classes and the benefits of diversification for long-term wealth building.

The students inquired about my educational journey at Louisiana State University, LSU E. J. Ourso College of Business and the early stages of my career.

Advisory services offered through Wealth Enhancement Advisory Services, LLC, a registered investment advisor and affiliate of Wealth Enhancement Group®.

I provided a roadmap of key milestones, including the commencement of major-specific courses, securing internships, and establishing connections that led to initial job opportunities.

It was an honor to share my experiences and offer actionable advice to students exploring careers in business and finance.

Thank you to CHS and the Investors Club members for an engaging conversation and the opportunity to give back to a place that holds significant meaning for me!
